

small change in any weight (or bias)
causes a small change in the output

